PATRIOT UPDATE FEATURED HEADLINE: Request for Authentication of Obama's Alleged Kenyan Birth Certificate...

California attorney Orly Taitz, who has filed a number of lawsuits demanding proof of Barack Obama's eligibility to serve as president, has released a copy of what purports to be a Kenyan certification of birth and has filed a new motion in U.S. District Court for its authentication.

This document purports to be a Kenyan certification of birth for Barack Obama, allegedly born in Mombasa, Kenya, in 1961

The document lists Obama's parents as Barack Hussein Obama and Stanley Ann Obama, formerly Stanley Ann Dunham, the birth date as Aug. 4, 1961, and the hospital of birth as Coast General Hospital in Mombasa, Kenya. New Movie Tackles Obama Birth Controversy...

WASHINGTON – WND Editor Joseph Farah has produced the first major DVD documentary on the critical issues surrounding the constitutional eligibility of Barack Obama to serve as president – but it wasn't easy.

In fact, during the course of shooting and editing "A Question of Eligibility," the award-winning filmmaking team, including veterans of many controversial movie projects, made the unusual request to keep its identity secret for fear of retribution from the administration.

"That's how hot this topic is," said Farah. "That's how hot this movie is."

"A Question of Eligibility" is expected to ship to customers on Aug. 4, the date Obama claims as his 48th birthday. Preorders are being accepted exclusively at the WND Superstore.

"I guess you could say it's a special birthday surprise for Obama," said Farah. "But, honestly, I don't think he'll like it. In fact, I believe the facts revealed in this documentary keep Obama awake at night. This eligibility issue is the only issue that threatens not only the future of his presidency, but almost everything he thinks he has already accomplished as president."

In "A Question of Eligibility," Farah chose four key presenters to bring the issue home – WND senior staff writer Jerome Corsi, the No. 1 New York Times bestselling author of "The Obama Nation"; Orly Taitz, one of the most visible attorneys involved in filing lawsuits challenging Obama to produce proof of his qualifications for office; Alan Keyes, a participant in one of those lawsuits, a presidential candidate himself, and the Republican candidate who opposed Obama in his successful bid to become a U.S. senator, the job that brought him to national attention; and Janet Porter, an activist and pundit who writes a weekly column for WND.

"What we have produced here is a compelling and shocking documentary that will appeal both to those already steeped in the details of the eligibility story and those who need a video introduction to the major issues," said Farah.

It's a fast-moving, original work shot entirely in Washington, D.C., and based on the voluminous investigative work of the news agency that has spent more time and money on the story than all other news media combined – the WND news team, said Farah.

"I'm hoping people will purchase a copy for themselves and pass it around to their friends – devotees of the issue and skeptics alike," said Farah. "I'm hoping people will share it in their living rooms, at tea party planning sessions and especially with their members of Congress – so officials in Washington can see firsthand that they've been sold a bill of goods about Obama's qualifications."

Farah says sooner or later the truth will come out on Obama's failure to prove his eligibility and maybe even his inability to prove it.

"Obama is choreographing a top-down revolution in America – one from which it may take generations to extricate ourselves," says Farah. "It will be a shame if we learn he was ineligible to serve in the office of president only after he's gone. If we can force the issue to be addressed while he is still in office, we have a chance of turning back the clock on many of the destructive actions he has taken already. If he's not able to prove his constitutional qualifications, we might all be able to wake up one day and think of the Obama administration as just a bad dream."

WHAT if the president of the United States is not constitutionally eligible to serve? Is it possible that a straightforward criterion was overlooked during a long, grueling, expensive campaign? Why are so many questions about something so simple still going unanswered? "A Question Of Eligibility" goes where no other documentary has dared to go in seeking the answers to those questions, including one that millions of Americans are asking: "Why won't Barack Obama release publicly the long-form birth certificate he claims to have from the state of Hawaii?"

In this video, you will hear from four experts on the subject: Dr. Jerome Corsi, author of the New York Times No. 1 bestseller "The Obama Nation"; Orly Taitz, the Southern California lawyer who has led the legal fight to secure the evidence of Barack Obama's eligibility; Alan Keyes, a third-party presidential candidate in 2008 and the man who

Help Us Stop The Obama Administration From Ruining Health Care in America! GET 2 "HEALTH CARE" BUMPER STICKERS FOR ONLY $1.99!

Obama care will be made to sound like a wonderful thing (just watch ABC news). But let's think about it. Have you ever stood in a line at the Department of Motor Vehicles? Have you ever tried to read the IRS code? Whenever the government involves itself in areas it has no business, it becomes a big bureaucratic mess. Taxes go up and service goes out the window. The only thing the government does well is getting out of the way.

If Obama care becomes reality, you can count on the fact that costs will soar and quality will suffer. After all, who will want to be a doctor when Obama slashes your paycheck and limits what you can earn. We need to make sure that the government stays out of the way and doesn't ruin yet another part of our lives. (FREE SHIPPING!, 2-PACK, SIZE: 4" x 8", Weatherproof / UV protection / Non-residue)

NEW T-SHIRT TO BE RELEASED... PRE-ORDER NOW!:
Ten Commandments According to Obama (T-Shirt)

After observing Obama on the campaign trail and during his first six months in office, we have concluded that our President lives and governs according to his own set of "Ten Commandments." They're certainly NOT the Ten Commandments you learned in Sunday School. In fact, many are the direct opposite! So, we've produced this t-shirt to help wake your fellow Americans up to his radical agenda.

The T-shirt is white and features the Patriot Depot Revolutionary War Soldier logo on the front left of the t-shirt. The complete text on the back of the t-shirt is listed online.

NEW: Reagan vs. Obama T-Shirt + FREE "Real Presidents Don't Apologize" Bumper Sticker!

FRONT: Features Small Patriot Depot Logo (Revolutionary War Soldier with Musket)

BACK: Features Picture of Reagan and the following phrase:

If Obama were President in 1989, Would the Berlin Wall have fallen?

If Reagan were President in 2009, Would the tyrants of the world fall?

Ronald Reagan was not afraid to stand up to tyrants or "evil empires" during his presidency. His passionate speeches ignited a spark of liberty and freed suppressed peoples around the world. At a time when evil is once again gaining a foothold in the world, we need a leader who will stand up for what is right. In honor of one of America's greatest presidents, Ronald Reagan, The Patriot Depot has created this hard-hitting T-shirt. It demonstrates the vast difference in character between Reagan and Obama. Our hope is that it will provoke fellow citizens to think and encourage politicians to take a stand for freedom and righteousness. Larger images of the front and back design available online. Also, this T-shirt comes with a free "Real Presidents DON'T Apologize For Their Country" bumper sticker! IN STOCK!
