The Western Center for Journalism

Training the Next Generation of Communicators

Is the biggest political crime in American history taking place right before our eyes? Is the man in the White House Ineligible, according to the Constitution, to sit in the Oval Office... is he a Fraud... is he a Usurper?

At first the liberal elites in Washington and in the media tried to ignore the question or ridicule those who dared to ask the question.

But – thanks to your efforts – the question will not go away... and now liberals are getting frantic... unhinged... and downright nasty.

Now, liberals are personally attacking those who dare ask Barack Hussein Obama ("Mr. Transparency") to produce a valid birth certificate and verify to the American people that he is a natural-born citizen – and eligible under Article 2, Section 1 of the Constitution to be President.

American music legend Pat Boone is finding that out the hard way. When Boone dared to ask that very question, the left-wing political blog Wonkette implied that Boone is a racist:

"What happens when you're super angry about a Negro somehow becoming president, but there are no longer specific laws against a Negro becoming president? Make up something else.... And guess who just joined the 'Birther' club? Once-famous right-wing [profanity deleted] and talentless fruitsack Pat Boone, who made a living half a century ago stealing the black man's music, that's who."

---

But no amount of name-calling can change the fact that 58% of respondents to an AOL on-line poll said that Obama should produce his actual birth certificate.

And no amount of ridicule will change the fact that 49.3% of the respondents to a scientific Wenzel poll found the question to be legitimate (41.5% said Obama should release his records and 7.8% expressed concern over the issue), even though only 51.3% of the respondents were even familiar with the birth certificate controversy.

And no amount of ridicule will change the fact that close to a half-million people have signed petitions calling on Barack Hussein Obama to release his birth certificate.

The plain and simple truth is that approximately half of the American people believe, as you believe, that Obama should produce his actual birth certificate and validate that he is not a fraud or a usurper.

Don't let anyone convince you otherwise.... When half of the American people want a question answered... it is no conspiracy theory. You were right to press the issue then and you're within your rights to press the issue now.

And the liberal elites know it too. But more than that, they fear that more people will dare to demand that Obama produce a valid birth certificate as more people become aware of this controversy.

That's why liberal elites are ridiculing you. That's why they're issuing personal attacks. That's why they're calling people racists or nuts. That's why they're trying to marginalize you.

Don't let them get away with it because one more thing is becoming apparent. The more you press them, the more desperate and unhinged they become. If you keep pressing the issue, the American people will win. If you stop – and the liberal elites are hoping and praying that you do – the American people lose. It's that simple.

That's why we can not let up now. That's why we must continue to press the liberal elites... particularly those in the media. That's why we must continue deluging their newsrooms – their inner-sanctum – with faxes demanding that they stop distorting and start reporting.

Tell them that no amount of arrogant or derisive laughter on their part is going to make the issue go away. Article 2, Section 1, of the Constitution of the United States specifically states that the President of the United States must be a natural-born citizen and that Barack Obama has moved heaven and earth to block the release of his actual Birth Certificate – the one document that could prove his eligibility under the Constitution to occupy the office.

Admonish them for distorting, instead of reporting. Admonish them for their conscious and biased efforts to assist Barack Hussein Obama in obscuring the truth from the American people.

Myth: Obama Release His Birth Certificate Long Ago?

Liberal elites continue to perpetuate the myth that Obama has released his birth certificate. But that's not true. Obama has not released his actual birth certificate.

The document that Team Obama released is a Certification of Live Birth; and a Certification of Live Birth and a Birth Certificate (A Certificate of Live Birth)... [notice the difference in the words "certification" and "certificate"] are two totally different documents.

A Certification of Live Birth- the document that Team Obama produced – supplied below on the left– is a "short form" document... a print out of information that has been entered – at some point in time, by someone – into a computer database.

A Certificate of Live Birth(an actual birth certificate) - on the other hand contains more information.

Produced at the time a person is actually born (meaning it can not be changed or altered simply by accessing a computer database), it gives the specific location of birth, the hospital, the time of birth, the attending physician... the names of witnesses to the birth....

The image on the right is a redacted copy of an actual Certificate of Live Birth(an actual Birth Certificate) from the State of Hawaii from approximately the same time that Obama was born.

So what's the big deal? For starters, the Certification of Live Birth is totally inadequate when it comes to validating that Obama is eligible under Article 2, Section 1 of the Constitution to be President.

The State of Hawaii provide an concrete example, as to why.

Hawaii maintains programs to encourage property ownership for native Hawaiians. The Hawaii Department of Home Lands (DHHL), a government agency, oversees these programs and, among other things, must validate that applicants for these programs are, in fact, native Hawaiians.

Pursuant to the administration of these programs, DHHLstates the following on its website:

"In order to process your application, DHHL utilizes information that is found only on the original Certificate of Live Birth, which is either black or green. This is a more complete record of your birth than the Certification of Live Birth (a computer-generated printout). Submitting the original Certificate of Live Birth will save you time and money since the computer-generated Certification requires additional verification by DHHL."

---

If the State of Hawaii does not accept the Certification of Live Birth as singular proof that an individual was actually born in Hawaii, why should we.

Of course, Barack Hussein Obama could put the issue to rest right now by simply releasing his actual birth certificate.

But he WON't release his actual birth certificate. In fact, he is actively resisting efforts to compel him to release his actual birth certificate.

He's dug in his heels. Teams of lawyers are actively fighting efforts to get him to release his actual birth certificate, while his underlings look down their noses at the American people and call these legitimate requests "garbage".

If Barack Hussein Obama has nothing to hide, what's the problem? The more he resists, the more you have to wonder.

It's time for you and me to weigh in and force the issue. Let's call-out the liberal media. Let them know they must report this story and that there is nowhere to run or hide.

So what's the big deal?

Why Should It Matter Where Obama Was Born....

Article 2, Section 1, of the Constitution of the United States, states in part, "No person except a natural born citizen of the United States, at the time of adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of President."

That means neither Arnold Schwarzenegger nor George Soros can be President of the United States. Not ever. Neither can Osama bin Laden.

That also means, that if Barack Obama was born outside the United States, he is not eligible to be President of the United States.

On this matter, the law is very clear. Obama's father was not an American citizen and Obama's mother was only 19-years-old when Obama was born - too young to confer her citizenship on young Barack. Obama's mother could be as American as "Apple Pie" and it would not matter (more on that later).

Absent a parent that could confer citizenship on Obama at birth, in order for Obama to even claim he is a natural-born citizen, he had to be born on United States soil (although even that point is in dispute, as some claim that dual citizenship, which would have been bestowed on him courtesy of his father, is a disqualifier).

And Obama's paternal grandmother said, she was present at Obama's birth, which took place in Mombasa in what is now Kenya.

So where was Obama born?

Only an actual birth certificate can answer that question (not the Certification of Live Birth that Obama produced) – and Obama has multiple teams of lawyers dedicated to the proposition that nobody – but nobody – gets to see the one document that can clear up this controversy. That's insane.

It's outrageous that Obama continues to cover up the truth. It's impossible not to conclude that he's hiding something.

In his grandiose Memorandum For The Heads Of Executive Departments And Agencies, Obama proclaimed:

"SUBJECT: Transparency and Open Government: My Administration is committed to creating an unprecedented level of openness in Government. We will work together to ensure the public trust and establish a system of transparency, public participation, and collaboration. Openness will strengthen our democracy and promote efficiency and effectiveness in Government."

Just pretty words. They mean absolutely nothing to Barack Obama, the non-transparent president – if indeed he is the President.

Is This Whole Controversy Such A Big Deal Or Much Ado About Nothing?

It was for John McCain.

You may still remember that the liberal media made a huge deal out of the fact that McCain was born in the Canal Zone, while his father, a Naval officer, was stationed there. The liberal media relentlessly questioned whether or not McCain met the constitutional test?

Congress even got into the act and weighed in on the matter. It was that important. When it came to McCain, adherence to Article 2, Section 1 of the Constitution was no conspiracy theory.

But John McCain, unlike Obama, released all relevant records.

While the Canal Zone was not American soil, McCain's parents were both American citizens who had resided in the United States for the required number of years after having reached the age of majority. McCain was good to go... as was Senator Barry Goldwater many years ago.

And the key phrase above – when it comes to parents bestowing citizenship rights on a child at birth – is "resided in the United States the required number of years after having reached the age of majority."

Obama's mother was only 19-years old when Obama was born... she was much too young to bestow her citizenship on him for the purpose of satisfying Article 2, Section 1 of the Constitution.

That's why McCain could be born abroad and why Obama must have been born on U.S. soil.

So why did the liberal media savage McCain and why is the liberal media giving Obama a pass?

Strangely, it may have been the liberal media's willingness to savage McCain over the issue that eventually brought this whole controversy to light.

When Obama's grandmother claimed Obama was born in Kenya, the McCain controversy was still fresh in the minds of people who wondered –and are still wondering –why the same standard was not being applied to Obama.

But, as the American people are coming to know, you are simply not allowed to criticize or scrutinize "the messiah" or hold "the chosen one" up to any standard.

Just raising what was a legitimate question in regards to John McCain makes you a conspiracy theorist or nut when it comes to Obama.

And now, as Pat Boone is finding out, it makes you a racist.

Can We Really Force The Media To Report The Truth?

To borrow a phrase from the Obama campaign, "Yes We Can."

In fact that's what The Western Center for Journalism has been doing for over eighteen years.

The Western Center for Journalism was founded in 1991 by Joseph Farah (the brains behind WorldNetDaily.com) and James H. Smith (former publisher of the Sacramento Union).

The Western Center for Journalism first made its mark following the suspicious death of Deputy White House Counsel Vincent Foster during the Clinton presidency.

Officially ruled a suicide by authorities, reporter Christopher Ruddy – with assistance from The Center for Western Journalism – unearthed evidence that shouted, "cover up."

Of course, at first, few - especially in the liberal media - listened but Ruddy's persistent and dogged investigations eventually showed that the suicide ruling was phony. As it was with the Foster story, so it is today. If we are persistent, the liberal media will have no choice but to start reporting this story.

My name is Floyd Brown and I am a syndicated columnist and veteran broadcaster. Today I lead the Western Center for Journalism, and it is a vigorous watchdog that keeps a check on government abuse and the media. The Center believes strongly in open public debate. It also believes that informed public debate requires quality journalism and reporting.

The Center is working to provide quality journalism and reporting by exposing bias and falsehoods in the mainstream media so that true information will be available.

The Western Center for Journalism website covers a wide variety of topics from media bias, to media industry news, and articles about online news sources and the impact of "citizen journalists."

In addition, the Center trains individuals to become "Citizen Journalists" and bloggers. These individuals are provided with technical training and practical advice on quality reporting and commentary.

But today, we need your help to expose the truth. When the editors and producers of these liberal media outlets start receiving a deluge of faxes from irate and patriotic Americans like you, they'll know that they can no longer hide behind their desks.

They'll stop distorting and start reporting.
